DIOCESE OF FORT WAYNE
Chancery Office
Box 390 Fort Wayne, Indiana

PRIESTS ASSIGNED to assist at the Mass of the Holy Christ on Maundy Thursday will find their names, together with all necessary directions, on page 2A of this issue.

AS PREVIOUSLY ANNOUNCED, the Lenten law of fast and abstinence is in force until midnight of Holy Saturday. In this country, however, Holy Saturday is not observed as a day of abstinence. Those who are obliged to fast may take meat only once at the principal meal. This restriction arises from the law of fasting. Those not obliged to fast are not so restricted with regard to eating meat. Once the distinction between fast and abstinence is clearly understood, the confusion will disappear. But when will that be?

WHEN THE EASTER VIGIL MASS begins after midnight of Holy Saturday, the priest may follow the usual Easter Sunday schedule of Masses. In other words, he may offer two Masses on Easter Sunday even though he has celebrated the Easter Vigil Mass after midnight of the preceding day.

AS PREVIOUSLY REQUESTED, pastors will please send all Lenten collections to the Chancery, Box 390. This includes also subscription lists for OUR SUNDAY VISITOR for reasons indicated in a letter of February 1st, addressed to the clergy.

Bishop Pursley Lauds Campaign 'Lay Apostles'; $416,400 Total

Fort Wayne — Bishop Leo A. Pursley this week old 600 Allen County Catholic High Schools campaign workers that their efforts are "fulfilling vocations to the lay apostolate." He said that their work in the campaign makes them "active lay apostles."

BISHOP PURSLEY offered an evening Mass at the Cathedral and delivered the sermon marking the solemn opening of the Memorial and second phase of the fundraising campaign for two new Catholic high schools here.

Noll Avenue Proposed Near New School

Fort Wayne — "Noll Avenue," in honor of Archbishop John F. Noll, probably will be the name of one of the new streets in the vicinity of the proposed Catholic high school on this city's South side.

City councilmen last week indicated favorable action on a request by Bishop Leo A. Pursley that a street be so named. Bishop Pursley addressed the motion to Councilman Robert W. Dahman.

The street would be located near the site of the high school to be erected on a 23-acre plot east of Calhoun st. and south of the Paulding road. It is one of two Catholic high schools planned here.

Meanwhile campaign headquarters announced that a new See Bishop Pursley, back page

Byzantine, Latin 'Hosannas' On Television Sunday

Fort Wayne — Hymns and prayers from the Latin and Byzantine rites of the Catholic Church will be presented by the Capuchin friars of St. Felix friary, Huntington, Sunday in a half-hour television program depicting Christ's entrance into Jerusalem.

"HOSANNA to the Son of David" is the theme of the program, to be aired at noon Sunday, March 25 by WKJG-TV in its "Church of the Air" series.

Liturgical music by Gregorian, Greek, Russian and American composers will illustrate that Palm Sunday liturgies in both East and West are centered around the Kingship of Christ.

Pointing up the similarity between the restored liturgy and ancient customs, the program will open with a historical picture of the Palm Sunday liturgy in fourth century Jerusalem. Friars will demonstrate the Blessing of Palms and the procession, ceremonies in which Catholics throughout the world this year will take a more active part as a result of the restored creed.

Catholic Schools 'Doing All Right'

Prelate Sees Blessing In Schools Built With Donations, Not Taxes

Washington—(NC)—Catholic Schools in this country "are doing all right—with the help of God," Archbishop John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., of Philadelphia declared here.

The prelate spoke to 1,000 teachers in the Archdiocese of Washington elementary and high schools at the eighth annual teachers' institute.

"When we look at some of the educational palaces that are costing the state three times what we pay for comparable facilities, and when we realize that most of these are financed through bond issues that will add 50 to 60 per cent to their cost," Archbishop O'Hara said, "we thank God that we are building with the offerings of the poor and not with tax money."

Stressing the increase in Catholic school enrollment, Archbishop O'Hara hazarded "a guess that in the present school year our elementary schools are educating 65 per cent of the survivors of the Catholic children born in the years 1942 to 1949. At the same time I warn those in charge of schools that in 1950 the number of infant baptisms was 350,000 more than in 1942. The harvest next September will be great."

Mixed Marriages Scored

Fathers Asked To Regain Head Of Family Position

Boston —(NC)— Mixed marriages were strongly warned against and fathers were exhorted to take their proper places as head of the family in a series of resolutions adopted at the close of the 24th annual National Catholic Conference on Family Life here.

The resolution on mixed marriages stated that "between one-fourth and one-third of all valid marriages involving Catholics are interfaith marriages." It said that such unions "are clearly a threat to the faith of the Catholic spouse and the religious training of the children."

Regarding the fathers of families, the convention urged "that the father again accept his place as executive of the family. It is necessary for true unity in the family, true discipline in the family, true religion in the family. The inadequate father is one of the greatest causes of juvenile delinquency."

In another action, the convention pointed out "that because of its very dangerous consequences, See Head of Family, back page

New Opinion

Bishop Asserts Religious Schools Are American

Denver, Colo. —(NC)— Bishop Robert J. Dwyer of Reno said here that efforts must be made to change the "climate of American opinion" which is based on the idea that the only genuinely American school is the public school.

The vast majority of people in this country have been persuaded into accepting the proposition that the public school is the true American school, and that, therefore, it is the only one deserving of attention, the prelate told more than 1,200 men attending a Communion breakfast here.

He called this "utterly false and misleading," and said it is a "clear indication" of Socialist thinking.

The bishop added that his remarks did not constitute an attack upon the public schools, but rather upon "a strong popular impression." He stated that his attitude toward public schools was a "compound of admiration and entire good will."

Points In Holy Week Ordo Cleared By Congregation

Vatican City—(Radio-NC)—The Sacred Congregation of Rites has issued a six-point explanatory statement on its recent decree for the restored Ordo of Holy Week.

The recent decree for the celebration of the rites of Holy Week, "besides providing for the solemn celebration of these rites with three ministers, also provides for the simple celebration carried out by a single priest in order to facilitate the celebration of the solemnity of Holy Week in all churches and in public and semi-public oratories."

A brief resume of the declaration is as follows:

1) In all churches and public and semi-public oratories where there are a sufficient number of sacred ministers, the solemn rites of Palm Sunday, Holy Thursday, Good Friday and the Easter Vigil may be celebrated in the solemn form.

2) In Churches and public and semi-public oratories where there are not a sufficient number of sacred ministers, one may celebrate the rites in simple form, on condition, however, that there be a sufficient number of clerics or at least a sufficient number of altar boys: not less than three for Palm Sunday and Holy Thursday and not less than four for Good Friday and the Easter Vigil.

(3) In a church where the Blessed Sacrament has been placed at the altar of reposition on Holy Thursday—even if the Mass has been celebrated in the simple rite—it is rigorously required that the liturgical functions on Good Friday afternoon be carried out in the same church.

4) If for any cause the Mass of Holy Thursday cannot be celebrated even in the simple rite—for example, if the pastor of one place is sick or dead or absent—the ordinary can give another priest permission for two Masses, one to be said in his own parish and the other in another parish. Both Masses, however, must be said within the time prescribed by the decree, that is, not before 5 nor after 8 p.m.

5) The Easter Vigil may be celebrated in churches or oratories where the liturgical services of Holy Thursday and Good Friday are not celebrated. Likewise, the Holy Saturday Vigil can be omitted where the rites of Holy Thursday and Good Friday have been celebrated.

6) The ordinary can permit those priests having charge of two parishes to say a second Mass on Holy Thursday as well as to repeat the service of Good Friday. Likewise, there may be two Masses of the Eastern Vigil. However the Masses may not be said in the same church. Moreover the time limits prescribed by the decree must be observed. The service cannot start before sundown.

Byzantine Rite

trance will comprise the second part of the program. The Great Entrance, a part of every celebration of the liturgies of St. Basil or of St. John Chrysostom, symbolizes the entrance of Christ into the Temple of Jerusalem.

FATHER CARMEL Flora, O.F.M., Cap., director of music at St. Felix friary, will sing those parts from the Latin liturgy referring to the Blessing of Palms.

Father Hermes Kreilkamp, O.F.M., Cap., who weekly celebrates Mass in the Byzantine rite in the newly-erected Russian chapel at the Huntington friary, will sing prayers from the Byzantine liturgy related to the ceremony of the Great Entrance.

Both Latin and Byzantine altars will be used during the telecast.

The choir of Capuchin friars, students at St. Felix seminary, will be directed by Frater David Belongea, O.F.M., Cap. Included in the musical program will be Gregorian Latin chants and antiphons of the Palm Sunday liturgy, Greek and Russian versions of the Cherubic hymn from the Byzantine liturgy, and "Ingrediente Domino," by Father Denis Sellen, O.F.M., Cap., and "Praise be to Thee, O Lord," by Sister Mary Raphael, both Americans.

It will be the first televised demonstration of the harmony in doctrinal lessons and liturgical expressions between Eastern and Western rites.

Narrator for the live telecast will be Frater James Keller, O.F.M., Cap.

Arrangements for the program are by Father Thomas L. Durkin, dean of the Fort Wayne deanery and chairman of the deanery Radio-Television committee.

Precious Blood Brothers Mark 50th Anniversaries

Four Precious Blood Brothers, two former residents of the Fort Wayne diocese, will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their profession in the Society of the Precious Blood at ceremonies at St. Charles seminary, Carthage, O., Wednesday, April 4.

BROTHER WALTER Ernst, C.P.P.S., a native of Mishawaka, and Brother Robert Gase, C.P.P.S., former resident of Decatur, will mark their golden jubilees along with Brother Isidore Tobe, C.P.P.S., and Brother William Schalk, C.P.P.S.

Born in Mishawaka 73 years ago this month, Brother Walter joined the Society of the Precious Blood in 1899 and studied at St. Joseph college, Collegeville. He made his profession New Years Day in 1906.

Assignments included those at Precious Blood parish, Fort Wayne, and at St. Joseph college, where he was assistant student prefect. He later travelled for The Messenger of the Precious Blood and for Der Botschafter.

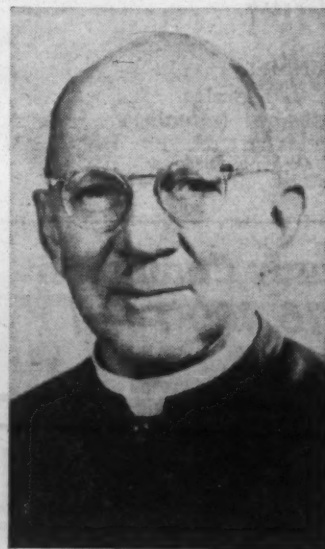

Last year he assumed duties as secretary and caretaker of the Sorrowful Mother shrine, Marywood, Bellvue, O.

Father Cyril Ernst, C.P.P.S., pastor of St. Joseph church, Pulaski, is a brother and Sister M. Borgia, P.H.J.C., and Sister M. Kunigund, P.H.J.C., are sisters of the jubilarian.

ALSO 73, Brother Robert was born in New Riegel, O., but lived in Decatur as a youth. Duties at the society's centers in Ohio have included gardener, organist, infirmarian, mail carrier, meat carving supervisor and orchard produce processor. He has lived in retirement at St. Charles seminary since 1953.

Brother Isidore was farm manager, engineer and butcher at Collegeville for 16 years starting at the turn of the century. He since has been stationed at St. Mary's novitiate, Burkettsville, O.

Brother William, "the Society's troubadour," for 35 years, was on the road for The Precious Blood Messenger. In earlier days he travelled his route via motorcycle, covering over 15,000 miles in that manner.

Brother Walter

Also 73, he continues to travel for the publication but is "at home" in a chef's or printer's apron.

FATHER ERNEST will offer a Mass of Thanksgiving at 10 a.m.

Brother Robert

on the jubilee day, assisted by Father Vincent Lengerich, Elkhart, nephew of Brother Robert, and by Father Richard Schalk, of The Josephinum, Worthington, O.

Father Seraphim W. Oberhauser, C.P.P.S., Precious Blood provincial, will deliver the jubilee sermon.

Religious Schools

rent of American thought has been implanted in the "vast, uninformed mind of the American public" by "great organizations of wealth and power," he said.

"Folly of the worst kind" is the label the bishop used to describe this thought. He said America is "bound to recognize her own stake in private and religious schools."

As for Socialist thinking, the bishop said it was "quite clear in my own mind that it is being manifested right now in American public education." He said the Socialism is that tendency in social thinking and action that destroys the "delicate balance between the individual and the society of which he is a part."

In education, Socialism manifests itself in the theory that government is the only rightful educator, he said. "It is a denial of the right of the individual to exercise his freedom to teach... It is the assertion that government alone should dictate what is taught," the bishop declared.

The prelate said he was not arguing the question of public aid to private schools. "I am arguing much more for a change of attitude than for a sop thrown casually by way of the so-called auxiliary services or for the most substantial benefits of a share of the educational tax dollar," Bishop Dwyer declared.

CHICAGO RACE FAST

An all-day fast from solid foods to obtain justice in racial relations has been announced by the national office of Friendship House in Chicago.

Approved by House chaplains, the fast is scheduled for March 28. All Friendship House workers and friends are being urged to join the exercise.

Houses are located in Chicago, New York, Washington, and Portland, Ore., to achieve Christian social justice for Negroes.

REFUGEES DOUBLED

Twice as many refugees were resettled in different countries of the globe under the auspices of Catholic Relief Services — National Catholic Welfare Conference as during the previous year.

The figures reveal 14,226 refugees were helped to find new homes last year as against 7,100 in 1954. Increased migration is explained largely by the improved administration of the U. S. Refugee Relief Act of 1953.

MOVIE CENSORSHIP

The Pennsylvania legislature is expected to follow-through on Governor George M. Leader's statement last week pointing out the need for sustaining the state movie censorship board.

A 1915 Pennsylvania law establishing a board of motion picture censors has been declared unconstitutional by the Commonwealth Supreme Court.

Informed sources at the state capital at Harrisburg, however, predict the lawmakers will quickly enact legislation to replace the old law with a new ruling in line with a prior decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in this regard.

BAR ANTI SMUT

Rep. John Dowdy of Texas said the American Bar association agrees with the provisions of his proposed law to curb the tide of pornographic literature flowing through the mails.

"I believe that this legislation also has the support of every father and mother, of every clear-thinking American," he said. Dowdy's Post Office subcommittee has held hearings on the problem of objectionable material sent through the mails.

Dowdy's measure would authorize temporary detention of mails addressed to anyone found using the mails illegally. Affected parties may appear before a U. S. court, whose decision would uphold or release the detention measure.

IN OTHER EVENTS:

The Archdiocese of Philadelphia recorded a total of 601 vocations to the religious life in the past year, 99 more than the previous year's record.

A "trial period" for young women, 18 to 25, interested in the religious life will be initiated next October by the Dominican Sisters of the Sick Poor in Detroit.

The hierarchy of England and Wales has proclaimed Low Sunday, April 8, as a day of prayer for the persecuted Church.

Prime Minister John A. Costello of Ireland said in New York that abolition of the partition of Ireland would release "a fresh and enthusiastic flow of Irish energy" to Western nations seeking peace.

Priests, Brother At Educators' Convention

St. Louis — Two priests and a brother from the Fort Wayne diocese will take active parts in the 53rd annual convention of the National Catholic Educational association here April 3-6.

Father William F. Cunningham, C.S.C., director of the faculty at the University of Notre Dame, will chairmen the Inter-American Affairs committee meeting.

Father James P. Conroy, OSV associate editor, will discuss "The Notre Dame and OSV Latin-American Project."

Brother Kenan Judge, C.S.C., supervisor of student teachers at St. Joseph high school, South Bend, will discuss "The Objectives and Problems in the Teaching of World History."

Over 8,500 delegates are expected at the session.

PROMINENT in the list of participants in the tenth annual Vocation Institute to be held at the University of Notre Dame July 12-15 are Bishop Leo A. Pursley (left) and Bishop Fulton J. Sheen. Bishop Sheen will deliver the keynote address at the Institute's first business session July 13. Bishop Pursley will offer the outdoor evening Mass at the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes on the N.D. campus to formally open the activity July 12.

Dead Sea Scrolls

Scholar Shows Faults In Book's Conclusions

Washington (NC)— Author Edmund Wilson made an "utterly mistaken correlation" between Christianity and the beliefs of the Qumran Community in his book on the Dead Sea Scrolls, a scholar in Semitic languages said here.

Father Roland E. Murphy, O. Carm., head of the department of Semitic languages at the Catholic University of America and prior of Whitefriars Hall, the Carmelite house of theological studies here, reviewed Mr. Wilson's book, "Scrolls From the Dead Sea," before the critic's forum.

The scrolls are considered by many authorities to be the greatest of all archeological finds in the scriptural field. They include

Old Testament manuscripts copied before the birth of Christ, more than 1,000 years older than any other existing old Testament texts.

THE FIRST SCROLLS were found in 1947 in a cave on the western shore of the Dead Sea. Since that time a whole series of important discoveries have been made in the same region.

The manuscripts are believed to have belonged to the library of the Qumran Community, a group which led an existence vaguely parallel to the life of some modern monks who live isolated from the world and devote themselves to a study of the sacred books.

In his book, Mr. Wilson said the scrolls indicated that Christianity should be "understood as simply an episode of human history rather than propagated as dogma and divine revelation."

Father Murphy called this a "ragged conclusion." He said that the author "has fumbled badly a very real acquisition of knowledge." The priest said Mr. Wilson had failed to explain "the paramount value of the scrolls and fragments for the history of the Old Testament text and language," and that he did not convey the "full picture of Qumran Community life."

"Thanks to the scrolls," Father Murphy said, "we now know that much of the New Testament doctrine is expressed in terms and concepts that were current among the Qumran Community. We appreciate how truly Christ came in the 'fulness of time,' and we can see how He capitalized on the ideas of His age to express the unique message of Christianity."

The Carmelite stated that "our increased knowledge of the religious movements of First Century B.C. Judaism will help us to understand certain nuances in the religious teaching and practice of the New Testament, which is being fitted more closely to its religious background."

THE DRIVE is being conducted on a 2-year pledge basis with a down payment of ten percent requested. Nearly $14,000 of the $86,500 already subscribed is in cash.

Officials said a distinctive feature of the campaign will be its follow-up phase during the pledge payment period. A continuation committee of volunteers, directed by the McCarthy firm, will begin a periodic check of pledge payments on Tuesday, April 12, at which time the active phase of the campaign will come to a close.

Paul Haburay and Ray Govert are general co-chairmen of the campaign, being assisted in the Memorial phase by Joseph Siegel, Fred Howat and Thomas Stack. Kenneth Gerdes, Alex Miller and Frank Collins head the General Gifts phase.

Catholics Nearly Double In 15 Years

San Antonio —(NC)— The number of Catholics in the San Antonio Archdiocese almost doubled in the past 15 years, according to figures released by the archdiocesan chancery office. The archdiocese gained 144,354 Catholics, an increase of almost 10,000 a year. The number of Catholics recorded for 1955 is 339,690.

Pre-School Immunization Plan Proposed To Crown Point Group

Crown Point — St. Mary's PTA members learned last week that the practice of pre-school round-up, wherein booster shots and immunizations have been given, has been discontinued in all schools in the State of Indiana.

This report was given by Health and Safety Chairman Mrs. Martin J. Sullivan, who conferred with the Lake County Board of Health prior to the meeting.

Mrs. Sullivan suggested, however, that at a pre-school registration parents could be given printed directives as to what shots should be given before the child enters school, recommending that each child be taken to individual family doctors for physical check-ups. This form would be signed by the doctor and returned to the school files. A motion will be made at the next meeting.

Mrs. Vito Manno, president, announced that the eighth grade boys, 28 in number, were scheduled to participate in a vocational morning, March 15, at St. Mark's in Gary. Father John Minnich accompanied the boys. St. Mary's PTA sponsored the transportation.

A slate of officers was presented by Mrs. Mary Helen Mansfield, chairman of the nominating committee. Voting will take place in April.

Father Muresan Speaks On Rites

Hammond Women Re-Elect Mrs. Ernest Patchman, Staff

Mrs. Ernest Patchman and her entire corps of officers were re-elected to serve for the ensuing year when the Hammond Deanery Council of Catholic Women met at St. Nicholas church in East Chicago.

Assisting Mrs. Patchman will be Mrs. Ralph McCampbell, Whiting, recording secretary; Mrs. Vincent Lauerma, Hammond, treasurer, and Mrs. Sam Brownsten, Hammond, auditor. Deanery vice-presidents are district presidents who will be elected in April.

Father George Muresan, host pastor, opened the meeting with special services in the Byzantine rite.

On the agenda of the business session, presided over by Mrs. Patchman, in addition to the election were reading of a letter of appreciation from the Vatican bestowing the Papal blessing on the members of the organization for its generous contribution at Christmas to the Pope's Storeroom of infants and children's clothing; reports of district presidents, and expressions of appreciation from Mrs. Joseph Johnson, Library and Literature chairman, for the co-operation on the poster project and from Mrs. John Van Netta, N.O.D.L. chairman, for the response to the essay contest sponsored by her committee. Essay winners will be awarded prizes at 3 p.m. Sunday, March 25, at St. Stanislaus school library, East Chicago.

Announcements included the Annual May Day of Recollection on May 24 at All Saints, Hammond. Mrs. Stanley Skwaniski, Deanery Spiritual Activities chairman, will be charge of arrangements.

The annual June Assembly will be held at St. Margaret Mary Church at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 19.

Final details of the Indiana Provincial convention to be held at Evansville April 28-30 were announced. District presidents are in charge of reservations and Mrs. Ralph McCampbell is assisting Mrs. Patchman in handling the tickets for the deanery.

Father Muresan, who was guest speaker for the evening, explained the meaning of the Byzantine rite and the co-relation of the Eastern Catholic churches to the Western or Roman Catholic Church. He traced the history of the Church from the time of Christ and outlined the origin of the various rites, rituals or forms of service.

Changes in rituals go with changes in the cultures and habits of mankind, being, simply, the best way in which to show Love for God and give service to Him. It grows and fluctuates to meet the needs of civilization at the current time is the best way to explain the development of the various rites, he said.

"We must follow Christ's command to be His followers, not just the Apostles nor the clergy who are their successors, but all laymen. By knowing and loving your faith more, you will be more able to live it. Practice your faith to a deeper degree so that it reaches not only you and your family but others, that it may incite them to be more faithful to their own faith."

"There are many controversies that have arisen through the centuries in regard to religion and yet we are all children of one Father united through the Brotherhood of Christ who charged us 'Love one another.' Little can be gained by prolonged arguments. So while we can not always agree, let us at least try to sympathize with each other!"

Mrs. Frank Kozlowski, parish chairman, served as head of the hospitality committee assisted by members of St. Nicholas Rosary society. Father Joseph Sipos, deanery moderator, closed the meeting with prayer.

South Bend — Increased religious interest in the community is the most important means of coping with the problem of juvenile delinquency, Mayor Edward F. Voorde told the St. Stanislaus Holy Name society fathers and sons at a Communion breakfast.

Voorde said that intensified family religious interest must become more and more evident if the community is to prevent a major outbreak of delinquency.

University of Notre Dame and St. Joseph high school sports figures also addressed the session.

Ideals Lauded As Student Accepts Award

Albany, N.Y.—(NC)—Both the Church and the State place great importance on youth's ability to use its ideals in ordering, arranging and achieving the common good.

And the recognition of this importance means that society must beware if youth is not given the proper ideals to revere and imitate.

So cautioned Archbishop Leo Binz of Dubuque in the main address at ceremonies in which Miss Linda Clark, a student of the College of St. Rose here, was honored as the outstanding Catholic Youth of 1955.

Archbishop William A. Scully of Albany, where Miss Clark resides, read the citation of the National Council of Catholic Youth honoring the student. Ronald A. Bedard, chairman of the NCCY and a student at the University of Rhode Island, Kingston, presented the award.

MANY DIGNITARIES attended the event held at a special student convocation in chancellor's hall in the state capital. Gov. W. Averell Harriman of New York was present.

Archbishop Binz, episcopal chairman of the Youth Department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, said "History demonstrates that youthful enthusiasm is boundless. Young men and young women can be challenged to a martyr's death. No one will volunteer for compromise."

SCOUT TRAILS

Silver Beaver

PAT MORAN

Five Catholic scouters of the South Bend deanery were among recipients of national scout awards at the fourth annual appreciation dinner of the Tri-Valley council held on the University of Notre Dame campus.

The Silver Beaver pendant award with blue and white ribbon was presented Scoutmaster Arthur J. Quigley of Troop 505, sponsored by St. Joseph parish. The award, presented only by the national council's executive board, was earned by Quigley for "distinguished service to scouting and to the community."

An Eagle scout, Quigley has served as assistant cubmaster, scoutmaster and explorer leader in addition to holding positions at various times with district and council scout committees. He is a member of the Lay Committee on Catholic Scouting. Mr. and Mrs. Quigley are also active in the local and national phase of the Christian Family Movement.

Walter L. Shilts, lay leader of the Catholic Committee on Scouting for the Fort Wayne diocese, received the special Scouter's award. Shilts directs diocesan scouting publicity and has been institutional representative of Troop 505 for the past ten years.

The Scouter's Key, a service award, was presented to Alex M. Elli, Christ the King Troop 451 scoutmaster; Alfred Dobecki, past explorer advisor of Holy Cross Post 437, and to Harry Demski, Holy Cross Troop 437 scoutmaster.

Thirty-six scouts of St. Stanislaus Troop 470, South Bend, planned, financed and built their own complete wood-working shop in the church basement. A product of 6-months' labor, the project followed a year's planning and fund-raising.

The workshop features power tools including a jig-saw and wood-turning lathe. Under the guidance of Scoutmaster Edwin Luczkowski and Instructor Chester Dabrowski, the scouts constructed shelving, benches and tool chests from scrap lumber donated by neighborhood businessmen.

Doughnut sales after Sunday Masses raised funds for some of the equipment and the "woodworkers" currently are conducting a scrap paper drive to buy a band-saw.

Scout Trails congratulates Troop 470, its pastor and adult leaders. With handicraft and wood-working essential phases of scouting, this worthwhile project should be an example to other troops throughout the diocese.

Camp Fire Birthday week is being observed by 200 Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds of Holy Cross parish, South Bend. Girls and their mothers attended Mass and a special convocation last Sunday to open the celebration. An investiture ceremony conducted by Father George Welsh, C.S.C., pastor, was held Monday and was followed by a supper and program.

Catholic Schools Said 'Doing All Right' said "we cannot expect to learn too much from a comparison of our totals with those provided by public school authorities."

He said a report of the Census Bureau of the October, 1934, enrollment in public and private schools showed 330,000 children 14 years of age or older in public elementary schools and only 65,000 in private schools. An explanatory note, he said, stated that the survey showed in private schools, in general, the average grade levels attained were higher within broad age groups than in public schools and that children older than the "normal" age for high school enrollment were less likely to be in private schools.

"We would place more confidence in the judgment of the sister who teaches the first grade without the elective system or aptitude tests to determine whether or not Johnny shall learn to read," Archbishop O'Hara said.

The archbishop said that "in these days when there is a general cry for more engineers, the fact that 45 per cent of the work taken in public schools leads away from college instead of a college should cause grave concern."

"LET ME SHOW you what practical effect this washed-out education has on national defense," the archbishop continued. "The U. S. News and World Report has given a report that shocked the nation. It shows that 11 per cent of the men reporting for military duty were rejected because they could not make 11 out of 100 points in a test covering elementary knowledge of the English language, arithmetic and ability to solve simple problems."

Fitting Catholic education into the picture, the archbishop said that the states which have the lowest rate of failure are the states with the highest proportion of children in Catholic schools, and those with the highest proportion of misfits are the states with low total of $461,400 has been pledged in the drive, now in its fourth week.

Bishop Pursley said that the term "evangelism" doesn't necessarily refer to "inside the sanctuary." He said that laymen can do "other things for God" and cited the local high schools campaign as an example.

He said that there are "two roads between Heaven and earth, one on which Christ sends gifts to us." Campaign workers have an opportunity, he added, to use the "return route" in their efforts to assist in providing additional Catholic educational facilities in Fort Wayne.

Two hundred Communists were reported at the Mass.

THE MEMORIAL phase group will attend its first report meeting at 8 p.m. Monday, March 25 in the Central Catholic high school gymnasium.

The advance GSA committee gathered in final report this week and a campaign spokesman said calculated figures will be released "as soon as possible."

An appeal for volunteers for the General Solicitation stage of the drive was issued in each of Allen county's 21 Catholic parishes last Sunday and campaign headquarters said the response was "glaring."

Reaction is now in motion to organize training sessions for General Solicitation workers, who will make calls on every Catholic in Allen county concerning the drive.

Seeking a total of $25 million, the campaign will apply its funds to new Catholic high schools in the north and south sections of this city.

present and future, parents are bound in strict justice before God and society to band together to halt at once the growing and often disastrous custom of teen-age steady company-keeping. Parents were reminded that "it is their strict parental responsibility to prevent their children from 'going steady' unless there is a reasonable hope of a happy, successful marriage in the near future."

THE GROWING complexity of modern living, another resolution stated, makes increasingly necessary involvement of skills and techniques of marriage guidance. It said that "seeking marital aid should become as normal as visiting a doctor or a lawyer."

Over-protective, over-entensive as well as neglectful parents fail to develop a wholesome parent-child relationship which is essential for the proper religious, moral, physical, psychological and social growth of the child, another resolution said. It recommended that parents develop a relationship from the early days with a child which includes formation of good habits, sound instruction, firm but loving discipline.

at children in Catholic schools. The archbishop said he hoped the day soon will come when Catholics will recognize "the fact that in their own traditions they have not only the philosophy, but the methods and the record of achievement that make them independent of the empirical systems of education that are falling apart all over the United States."

"Catholic teachers," he reminded, "deal with souls and they are responsible before God for what ever share of their spiritual development has been entrusted to them."
